Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

Reference is made to the following document:

D1: US-A-4 463 866 (MANDEL GEORGE) 7 August 1984 (1984-08-07)

1)

The document D1 is regarded as being the closest prior art to the subject-matter of claim 1, and shows a lid for a container as claimed in the preamble of claim 1.

The subject-matter of claim 1 differs from this known lid in that the bounding rim of the opening is bounded by a reinforcing annular bead that is formed as a depression into the upper side of the lid plate.

The subject-matter of claim 1 is therefore new (Article 33(2) PCT).

The problem to be solved by the present invention may be regarded as making it possible to have a reinforcing bead around the opening and at the same time allowing the closure collar to rest on the bounding rim to close the opening as tight as possible.

The solution to this problem proposed in claim 1 of the present application is considered as involving an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT) for the following reasons:
It isn't suggested in the prior art to provide a reinforcing bead in the form of a depression in order to arrange for a tight fit between closure collar and bounding rim.

3)

Claims 2-20 are dependent on claim 1 and as such also meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.
